PROJECT

Rozgar Mitra Chat Bot
Contributer

- As the lead designer in a team of six, I drove the creation of crucial flow charts and Lucidchart diagrams, ensuring clear communication and alignment among team members, and guiding the project from concept to execution.

- In addition to design, I collaborated with a team member on backend development tasks, contributing to the project's technical implementation. Together, we implemented robust backend functionalities, ensuring seamless integration with the project's frontend design. My dual role in design and development underscored my versatility and dedication to the project's success."
